The information provided above serves solely to identify the manuscript. This Agreement applies to the manuscript identified above and to all authors listed in the final accepted version of the manuscript.

§1 Originality and Author Warranties

The Author(s) warrant that the submitted manuscript is an original scholarly work and has not been previously published in any journal, book or other formal publication and is not under consideration for publication elsewhere. The Author(s) confirm that the manuscript does not infringe any copyright, database right, moral right or other intellectual property right of any third party and does not contain unlawful, defamatory or plagiarised material. All figures, tables, images and other materials included in the manuscript are either the Author(s)' own work or are used with the permission of the respective copyright holder. The Author(s) confirm that all necessary ethical approvals, permissions and consents required for the research have been obtained.

§2 Authorship and Contributions

The Author(s) confirm that all persons listed as authors meet accepted academic authorship criteria based on a significant scholarly contribution to the conception, design, execution, analysis or interpretation of the research and the preparation of the manuscript. No person who has made such a contribution has been omitted and no honorary, guest or ghost authorship has been included. All authors have reviewed and approved the final version of the manuscript and agree to its submission and publication. The Author(s) confirm that the manuscript contains accurate statements regarding author contributions, acknowledgements, funding and conflicts of interest.

§3 Funding, Conflicts of Interest and Research Transparency

The Author(s) confirm that all sources of research funding and institutional support have been properly disclosed in the manuscript. The Author(s) declare that any financial or personal relationships that could influence the research have been disclosed in the manuscript. Where applicable, the Author(s) confirm that information regarding data availability is accurately described in the manuscript.

§4 Copyright

Copyright in the work remains with the Author(s). The Author(s) grant the Publisher a non-exclusive, world-wide, perpetual and royalty-free licence to publish, reproduce, distribute, communicate to the public, display and archive the work in all media and formats for the purposes of scholarly publication, dissemination, indexing, citation, preservation and promotion of the journal and the scholarly record.

§5 Open Access Licence

The article will be published as open access under the Creative Commons Attribution 4.0 International Licence (CC BY 4.0). Under this licence any user may copy, share, distribute, transmit, adapt and build upon the work for any lawful purpose, including commercial use, provided that appropriate credit is given to the Author(s) and the original publication in Virtual Economics is properly cited.

§6 Editorial Processing and Archiving

The Publisher is authorised to perform copyediting, typesetting, formatting and technical modifications necessary for publication, provided that the scientific meaning and integrity of the work are not altered. The Author(s) agree that the article and its bibliographic metadata may be deposited and preserved in indexing and abstracting databases, repositories, archiving systems and DOI registration services.

§7 Corresponding Author Authority

The Corresponding Author signs this Agreement as the authorised representative of all co-authors and warrants that all co-authors have been informed of the submission, have approved the final manuscript and consent to its submission, publication and licensing under the terms of this Agreement. All authors remain jointly responsible for the content of the work and for the accuracy of the statements and warranties provided in this Agreement.

§8 Liability

The Author(s) agree to indemnify and hold harmless the Publisher, editors and editorial board against any claims, damages or expenses arising from a breach of the above warranties, including but not limited to plagiarism, copyright infringement, unlawful content or misrepresentation of authorship.

§9 Entry into Force

This Agreement becomes effective upon acceptance of the manuscript for publication.
